

GENES AND CULTURE SHAPING HUMAN EVOLUTION

Symposium - University of Bern

January 19, 2016

14:30 - 18:00 | Freiestrasse 3, room U113, Bern

14:30 - 15:15 Lounès Chikhi

Instituto Gulbenkian Ciência, Oeiras, Portugal
Université Paul Sabatier, Toulouse, France

"On the importance of being structured: should we trust population size changes inferred from genomic data?"

15:15 - 16:00 Anna-Sapfo Malaspinas

Institute of Ecology and Evolution, University of Bern, Bern, Switzerland
Natural History Museum of Denmark, Copenhagen, Denmark

"Transpacific contact: a genomics perspective"

16:00 - 16:30 Coffee break

16:30 - 17:15 Eske Willerslev

Natural History Museum of Denmark, Copenhagen, Denmark

"How we developed our biological and cultural diversity"

17:15 - 18:00 Évelyne Heyer

Muséum National d'histoire Naturelle, Paris, France

"Cross-talk between cultural and genetic evolution in humans"

Deadline for registration: 14.01.16

URL: <http://www.cuso.ch/activity/?p=1128&id=3178>

ORGANIZERS
Isabel Alves

CONFÉRENCE UNIVERSITAIRE
DE SUISSE OCCIDENTALE

UNIVERSITÄT
BERN